

2017 Graduate Research Retreat

Columbus, OH

The Department of Horticulture and Crop Science and the Graduate Research Retreat Committee are proud to announce the Annual Horticulture and Crop Science Graduate Research Retreat. This year, the retreat will be held on the Columbus campus on October 12th and 13th, 2017. Overnight accommodations will be provided for Wooster-based participants. Presentation formats include: proposal flash talks, research flash talks, research presentations, and both competitive and non-competitive poster divisions. Registration and abstracts are due on September 22nd. For more information, see the competition rules and rubrics.

The retreat is a great opportunity to learn about research performed within the department and to interact with faculty, staff, fellow students, and guests. All graduate students are encouraged to submit abstracts for oral or poster competitions. Post-docs, staff members, and lab groups are invited to submit abstracts for the non-competitive poster session. Faculty members and Postdocs are invited to judge the competitions.
